To Whom It May Concern:

Dr. Sitler is a very valuable asset to the Quantum Enterprise group of companies. She can handle any task given and is always full of energy, ideas, creativity and ready to take on any challenge. She travels extensively for us with extended time away from home and family.

Andrea's skills in the logistics and safety arena are top notch. We have clients that wait specifically for her services and availability. Through her implementations she has saved numerous clients millions of dollars.

Her self designed shipping matrix is constantly evolving. This application has been implemented at numerous clients, both large and small, and they have all reaped the ample rewards. Her logical approach to a situation combined with her creativity has no bounds.

Andrea is our Sr. Project Manager. Her language skills, willingness to adjust to cultural differences and outgoing manner has won her much praise. I can place her on an assignment as part of a team or solo and KNOW it will be completed on time and correctly. She is an excellent spokesperson for the company and is comfortable communicating at any level within an organization.

Dr. Sitler is a published author in industry journals. Her views on the transport of commodities have been heard by members of Congress. She maintains an active CDL-A with all endorsements and remains current on DOT regulations. She truly is the DOT DOCTOR!
